As this differs in some places from that published by Twysden in his X. Scriptores, and contains a long addition, it is worth while to give here a page of this MS. continued from the word "committerent" in column 63 of Twysden, where the general identity of both MSS. ends.—"Committerent. Totum autem consilium suum tam Priori quam Archidiaconibus Ecclíæ. summo celabat, et maturato rursus itinere ad regem Scotiæ revertitur, quasi ipsius adjumento Episcopatum Dunelmensem adepturus. Defunctus est autem, eo absente, episcopus, die Rogationum 2da, feria scil. tercia, & nocte sequente, quia cadaver ejus aliter teneri non potuit, exinteratus atque sale conditus est: Statimque procelanda morte ipsius, Castelli introitus etiam ipsis archidiaconibus et Priori, juxta solitum, eum visitare volentibus, interclusus est, et mors ejus celata usque ad sextam feriam. Cum vero versaretur in ore omnium sermo mortis ejus, tradiderunt sepeliendum feria sexta, quasi recenter mortuum, & Sabbato sepultus. Dominica sequente rediit Willelmus in Castellum, & quasi auctoritate Regis Scotiæ munitus, quem ad suam factionem jam inclinaverat, cepit quasi sua omnia disponere, singulisque et sepe communiter omnibus verba faciens, quosdam alliciens promissis; alios attrahens blanditiis; omnes autem exquisitis circumveniens astutiis, omnia pro posse et supra posse agebat, ut presumpta sibi permaneret potestas. Nec multus erat labor ut sibi barones adjungeret, quia prius pene expetitus est ab eis quam expeteret, tum timore ejus preventis tum calliditate circumvenientis. Infecit autem et unum Archidiaconum maliciæ suæ venenis, ut sibi assentiret. Hæc autem omnia in abscondito, in tenebris, et in umbra mortis, donec, adveniente Rege Scotiæ, palam sermo de his fieret a baronibus qui Regem comitabantur; Eustachio, scilicet, Rodberto de Brus, Bernardo de Baliol, Hugone de Morevile."

11058 Psalter, illuminated with Arms of the Barons of England. sm.f. V. s. xiii. Ex Bibl. Thomæ Martin, de Palgrave.

11059 Figuræ Veteris et Novi Testamenti, seu, Versus Latini ad depingendum in Ecclesiarum Muros. fol. V. s. xiii. This is a curious Preface, describing the mode in which the Walls of Churches were ornamented in the reign of Hen. 3. and previously.

The Author begins, "Dolens in Sanctuario Dei fieri picturarum ineptias, et deformia quedam, portenta magis quam ornamenta, optabam, si fieri posset, mentes oculosque fidelium honestius, et utilius occupare. Cum enim nostri temporis oculi non solum vana sed etiam profana, sepius voluptate capiantur, nec facile putaverim inanes ecclesie picturas,hoc tempore posse penitus abrogari, presertim in cathedralibus, et baptismalibus ecclesiis ubi publice fiunt stationes,excusabilem arbitror indulgentiam, si, vel ejusmodi picturis delectentur, que, tanquam libri laicorum,simplicibus divina suggerant, et litteratos ad amorem excitent scripturarum. Siquidem,ut pauca tangamus de plurimis. Quid-nam decentius est, quid fructuosius, speculari circa Dei altarium, aquilas bicipites unius ejusdemque capitis leones quatuor; centauros pharetratos; frementes acephalos; chimeram, ut fingunt logici; fabulosa vulpis, et galli diludia; simias tibicines; et onos liras boetii: vel certe contemplari gesta patriarcharum; legis ceremonias; presidia judicum; typicos regum actus; certamina prophetarum; Machabeorum triumphos; operaDni.salvatoris; et iam choruscantis evangelii revelata misteria. Num adeo augusta est Veteris ac Novi testamenti series; quatinus honestum, et utile postponentes, in adinventionum turpitudine, numeros, ut aiunt, jocosos effundamus. Sed hec fantasmatum ludibria paulatim introduxit pictorum nefanda presumptio, quam utique tanto tempore non debuit ecclesiastica gravitas acceptasse. Nam acceptare visa est, quod reprehensibili non desinit sustinentia tolerare.Ad moderandam itaque pictorum licentiam, immo ad informandam eorum operam in ecclesiis, ubi pingi permittitur, digerit presens calamus adaptationes quasdam rerum gestarum ex Veteri,et Novo testamento cum superscriptione binorum versuum, qui rem gestam Veteris testamenti breviter elucidant, et rem Novi convenienter adaptant quorumdam postulatione capitulatim ad manum conscripti. Ideo verò per singula capitula plures positi sunt binarii versuum, ut, quod circa unum non sufficit exprimere brevitas,suppleat circa idem alterata diversitas,placitam datura legentibusoptionem. Qui, videlicet, bini versus circa rem gestam Veteris testamenti scribendi sunt, vel circa aliud quid misticæ, seu tropicæ adaptationis. Nam circa rem gestam evangelii, eo quod usitatior, et notoria sit, sufficit scribere tantummodo nomina personarum. Ceterum hiis, qui talia curant, non erat meum pingenda queque disponere,sed disponant ipsi,prout trahit sua quemque voluptas,vel prout unusquisque in suo sensu abundat,dum modo gloriam Christi querant, non suam; nec solum ex ore infantium, et lactentium perficiat ipse laudem; sed etiam,si hii tacuerint,lapides clament,et Dei magnalia pictus quodam modo paries eloquatur. Michi propositum fuit in plerisque jam ecclesiis,ceptam honestatis ampliare materiam, et delictum nimiæ vanitatis prestantiori copia temperare." Written in the end of the 12*th century, or beginning of the* 13*th.*

Specimen of the Verses, which the Author proposes as substitutes for the Paintings:

Maurice ap Dackin ap Pierce Treven, of Betus Cadewen, in Powis, gent. hath written concerning all Wales

Rees Cain, of Oswestree, who was Wm. Llyn's Disciple, and a perfect man, and he hath written concerning all Wales.

Lewis Dwnn, Poet, who hath written the Original Book of these Pedegrees, who was formerly Howell, ap Sir Mathewe's Disciple, and since a Disciple to Owen Gwynedd and Wm. Lynn, and had a great many of their Bookes. And then he had a Commission over all Wales granted him per Clarenseux Robt. Cox alias Clarenseux Roe de Arms, and Richard Glover, alias Somerset, Marsial to Norey King of Armes. He had that Commission granted him over all Wales, to keep, and preserve the Pedegrees of the Ancient Brittaines, and to give them their Right Claim and Title of Arms, and so he travelled over all the Marches of Wales. And the cheif of the Nobility and Gentry had shewed him their Ancient Records, their writtings and Charters, and he write a coppy of all those Writtings, Charters, and Records, and I have incerted the day and the year when they were first written per Lewis Dwnn, and the year of Queen Elizabeth's Reign. And he mentions yt. there was then a coppy of all his industrious Travels, with Mr. Broughton, one of the Councell of the Marches, and with one George Owen, Esqr., and with Mr. Richard Glover, alias Somerset, in London, and he had of their Books in return of his.

Besides, he saith yt. all the Nobility and Gentry hath set their hands to their Pedegrees when he writt'em first, yt. it might plainly appear yt. there was nothing add nor diminish therein.

He hath taken likewise great care to preserve the Ancient Brittish Tongue, and the most famous works of the Poets. And he is sure yt. no one before him never had such warrants for Pedegrees and Coat of Armes, nor such worthy attestations to his Books per several of the Gentry, and he testifies further whether they are truth or untruth, yt. they must be beliv'd unavoidably, per reason of the numerous authorities and attestations he had of the same.

There is within this Book the Pedegrees of King James the 1st. and Queen Elizabeth, according as they were published in print, to Adam. Here is likewise the Pedegrees of some of the Nobility and Gentry of the Ancient Brittains to Adam, the first man yt. God created, originally written per Lewis Dwnn, Deputy Herald at Arms, in the 28th year of Queen Elizabeth's Reign, of Blessed memory, and in the year of our Lord Anno Domini, 1586."

Ex Bibl. Caroli Wynne, Arm. M. P.

13719 Lewis Dwnn's Genealogical Collections for Wales sm. 4to. russ. & V. & ch. s. xvi. & s. xvii. This is a remarkable Volume, written, part on Vellum, part on Paper, in a vile scrawling hand, which does no credit to the "Chief Herald of all Wales." The 1st. 15 leaves are Vellum; then, as far as fol. 202, are paper; after which follow 16 leaves of Vellum, then 7 leaves paper, to which succeed 3 leaves of Vellum, which end the Book. Most of the Pedigrees are written in Circles, but some are in squares, others in the shape of trees, & others are given in narrative only. In some cases the 16 Ancestors are given in the shape of a Quadrant; in others, the Father is in a Circle in the Centre, & his Children, in Circles like Planets, revolving round him, or, like the Knights of the Round Table. Sometimes the Circles are in Perpendicular, sometimes in Horizontal Columns. The Book is full of these Nugæ Heraldicæ.
The first Page begins, in red letters "Hyna henwab y pendefigion addabthout, the next line is in black letters, gida William gwnkwerwr i ynys Brydain. Then follows a succession of names alternately in red, & black, which appear to be names of those who came in with Wm. the Conqueror. The 7th. page of this list is signed apparently by Lewys Dwnn.
The first Pedigree is that of St. Edward, the Confessor, whom he traces up to Noah. Then Wm. the Conqueror, & the Kings of England down to Elizth. after whom come the Welch Kings, & Princes, beginning with "Rodri Maur, tuwysog holl Gymru." Then follow the rest to Gwaithvoed. After these the Pedigree of Adam Salsbri, Esgwier, downwards, Ednowain Bendew, Madog ap Ednowain, Jerworth ap Ririd, Gwrgaint ap Elidir, & Einion ap Owain. Here follow 3 pages written upside down, containing Prognostications, (in English,) for the years 1594, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, & 1600, the first of which, as a Curiosity, I transcribe.
"The Relevasion (sic.) of this yeer doth ported (sic) new and straens hereses to a reis, and ther for it induseth subversions and chaunges in the trew religion unto ecclesiasticall persons, namli thos wich arr in the heichest estadt. It denowsyth unvreri, and most likli destrucksion in sbiritual eledsion asembl of prinssys and peers. Ther sall kraffty and sybtil entendments, librall sciensus, and honest studuens, bring lukre and gain. Yt siall by daengerus traveling, and letters interkepted, perhaps thinck the exqwrsions of sowldiers preparatur ffor wars Mor over traps siawl by layd by poyson to destree a sertene nobl mann, or woman riwler, awlso sertain anssiants sittis siall by thretnyd, and swm violens donne unto them. To conkliwd e say ther is ffor siewyd korwpssion, or scarciti of graen through excess off moestur."
On the last page of these first Vellum leaves are the names of the Conquerors of Brecknock, & Glamorgan, beginning with Sir Bernard Newmarch, & Sir Wm. de Londres, alias London, the first list, (of Brecon,) being taken from the "Lyfr Ed. Gams esgwier, ai dowad:" & the 2nd. from the "Llyfr Sir Edw. Mansel, ai dowad."
The 1st. page of the paper portion is dated 1597, & begins "O duw nad gamwedd." "y dyma Gopi o hen lyfr Morus Dakyne ap Pyrs Trefor, or Betws." "Ac or gynu y lleidva honuo pann." &c. At fol. 31. the first Pedigrees in Circles begin, dated 1573. being Marchudd ap Kynan's issue, & Wm. the Conqueror's in parallel lines untill they meet in Henry 7th. & Elizth. d. of Edw 4. & then continue thro' the Scotch line to James 1st. & Henry his son, Prince of Wales. At fol. 39. is the Royal Coat of France, & England quartering Scotland, & Ireland, very neatly tricked, & therefore I suspect not done by Lewis Dwnn. At fol. 45 b. are the 16 Ancestors of Edwd. Langford in the shape of a Quadrant, & on fol. 46. the Ancestors of Thos. Langford, branching like a tree, but on the right side only, in which each wife's Ancestors are carried up.
At fol. 49. is the 1st. Ped. in which the Father in the centre circle has all his Children round him, each in a circle. At fol. 52. begin the Peds. of Johns, Salsbry, Hanmer, Thomas, Stradling, Wogan, Vychan, Aubre, Williams, Gaius, Herbert, Mansel, Bulkely, Croft, Mostyn, Brereton, Wogan, Lewys, Cornwall, Perott, all dated 1604, or 5. At fol. 62. Ped. of Powys, 1596, &c. At fol. 70. are Herefordshire Pedigrees in narrative, part in red ink, part in black, & in rather better writing At fol. 76. begin Pedigrees of Gaermerddinsir, & Maesyfedd, signed "p. me Lewys Dwnn, debyt herhocht at arms dros Gymru." Peds. of Sir Aberteivi signed "p. me Lewys Dwnn, 1588." At fol. 84 b, Jones of Aber Marlais. f. 85 b, Titles of Officers of the Heralds Coll. signed "p.me LewysDwnn,1585." f. 86, the Peds. in Circles commence again. f. 90, "Plant brennin Boem," in a circle, in the centre of which is Llowarch hen, & round him are 27 persons—f. 100, Ped. of Herbert.—fol. 102, Pedigree of Mansel, (written Mansfelt,) beginning with Robert Mansfelt who married Burga, verch Langton. f.103, Gamage of Coity, & the Earl of Worcester. f. 110, Brochwell Ysgithrog. f. 123, Conwy of Potryddan. f. 125, Thos.Mostyn. f.148, Jestyn ap Gwrgan.f. 161 b, Mortimer. f. 172, Lord Stafford. f. 205, The Conquerors of Brecknock, dated 1580. f. 205 b, Ped. of Sir Wm. 13873 A MS. in Arrowhead Character on Vellum.

An evident forgery, supposed to be done by S. 3 lines in Greek Capitals, at the end, are half washed out, in order to make them look ancient. s. 4to. V. s. xix. 6 leaves.

13874 Euleri Ethnica. 3 leaves. sm. 4to. Vel. This also I suspect to be a forgery.

13875 Neocomi Historia Byzantina. 4 leaves. s. 4to. Vel. Another forgery, probably, similar to the last. The above 2 MSS. on Vellum are written in the same kind of brown ink.

13876 A leaf torn out of a New Testament, containing the Verses relative to those who were bidden to the marriage feast but would not come. sm. 4to. Vell. s. xiv.

13877 Homeri Ilias. The first 3 books, written on a Roll of Vellum, 21½ inches long, 2¼ broad. This MS. is in a most unusual Character, which induces many persons to deem it, (as well as the Hesiod which follows,) a forgery. Some of the Characters resemble those upon the Lycian Monuments. It is written in Greek Capitals, so small, as not to be read without a magnifying glass. It is also in Boustrophedon, a form I believe never before seen on Vellum MSS., although frequent in Inscriptions on Marble, & Vases. At the head of the Poem are the names of Persons, supposed to be Archontes, written in 14 Columns, one letter under another, in the Persepolitan, or Chinese manner. Under these are 4 horizontal lines, so that the whole looks like a Temple with 14 Columns, standing upon 4 steps. The first lines of the Poem are written, (like the Columns above mentioned,) one letter under another, in 4 Columns, as far as Verse .... after which the lines run from left to right, & right to left, alternately, in Boustrophedon. There is so much the appearance of the MS. having been long used by some person who loved to read the Poet, that I can not bring myself to believe it to be a forgery of S. If it is, it is the most wonderfull & successfull attempt ever accomplished. The worst part of the evidence against it is, that the Man is so mysterious about his acquisition of these MSS. A straight-forward, honest person would state at once, with all candour, where he obtained it, & how. With all this mystery, we are certainly tempted to say "Quid non audebit Grecia mendax." He shewed me a small leaden jar, like an ink-pot, in which he said the Hesiod was found. It had been covered with Pitch, or Bitumen. It is possible, that such a jar, so covered, might preserve its contents for 2000 years, uninjured by atmospheric action. I have a Latin Manuscript which is 1200 years old, which has been exposed to all the wear, & tear of human fingers, as well as atmospheric action, but it is as fresh and fair now, almost, as when it was written, except where injured by actual water having touched it. Is it not possible then, that this Homer may be a Relic of the Alexandrian Library, which was burnt only about 1200 years ago. Hear what Mr. Bowen says in his remarks on Mount Athos:

"A great migration of Monks, & Anchorites, took place hither (Mount Athos) when Egypt, their first stronghold, was conquered by the Saracens. A large proportion of the holy exiles settled down on the peninsula of Acte, forming a Society, which is utterly without parallel in all history.".

? Is it not possible that the Librarian might have put this roll, 2 inches broad, & half an inch thick, into his pocket, prior to the assault of the Caliph on Alexandria, & carried it off ?

Is it not possible that this Roll may have been written in Lycia, & thence transferred to the Alexandrian Library?

Or may not it have been written in Etruria, (where we know Boustrophedon was used) & obtained by Ptolemy from that Country? At all events, from whatever Country it may have come, I feel almost convinced that neither this nor the Hesiod, have been forged by S. and other Persons, I think, may be convinced, by comparing them with those MSS., which I suspect really to be his forgeries, as in the case of the Phocylides below, (No. 13872.) & the Palæphatus, & Æschylus, which are still, I believe, in his possession. Cicero speaks of having seen the Iliad written so small, that it could be put into a Nutshell; I presume he meant a Walnut Shell. Although this Homer is not so small, yet I have the whole of Anacreon, (No. 13869,) which is capable of being so enclosed.

13878 Hesiodi Opera, i. e. Opera, & Dies, Theogonia, Scutum Herculis On ten Rolls of Vellum, in a rather larger Character than the Homer. The same characteristics of long usage, & evident antiquity, attend this MS. as in the Homer, & it is written in the same formed letters, & in Boustrophedon. The length of each Roll is 10¼ inches, breadth 2 inches. There is a repetition of part of the Scutum Herculis, of which the old title seems to have been erased, & the following inserted, with evident tampering, & interpolation, "Hesiodou Sigaloenta epee ews phoros." Then follow eleven lines in characters, which are not Greek, but resemble Arabic. Then follows the above mentioned repetition of part of the Scutum; after which is another Poem, in the supposed Arabic Character, & then comes this Title, in Greek "Hesiodou Orai," on the last membrane but one, which continues to the end of the 10th; but the whole Poem of the "Orai" is in the supposed Arabic Character.

13879 Anacreontis Carmina: on 4 Skins of extremely fine, & thin Vellum, about 1 inch broad, & 7 inches long. This is written smaller than the Homer, & the Vellum is almost transparent. The letters are so small as scarcely to be read with the magnifying glass, but as I have read some lines of it, I know it to be Anacreon. This MS. would undoubtedly go with ease into a Walnut shell, & if it were doubled up, & compressed into the smallest space it is capable of, it would unquestionably go into a Hazelnut shell.

13880 Pythagoræ Aurea Carmina. This is written on Vellum almost as fine as the Anacreon, on one skin about 4 inches long, & 1½ inch, broad. On the dorse is a Rubic, almost erased. Neither this, nor the Anacreon, do I believe to be forgeries.

13881 Tyrtæi Odæ. A Roll on 2 skins of Vellum, 19 inch. long, & 2½ broad. This I am inclined to think a forgery of S. who has here imitated the Characters of Homer, & Hesiod, but in a much larger hand, & in evidently more modern writing, & the Ink is clearly not the same. This is in Boustrophedon, & some of the Odes are written in the form of Temples, Crosses, Axes, Eggs, &c.

13882 Phocylidis Carmina, &c.
¶ Aristotelis Pœan.
¶ Rianos Cretensis peri Aphresunees.
a Roll on 7 skins of Vellum, 13 inches long, & 4½ broad. In Greek Capitals, in the fine large hand of Simonides, & in his brown ink, which still smells strongly of the perfume in its composition.
There is a remarkable fact in this MS. that it gives the Country of Phocylides, which was not known, apparently, to Fabricius. The Title runs thus, "Phokylidou Eurusthe*ws* tou Milesiou Poiema Nouthetikon." It contains also some Variæ Lectiones from the 1st. Aldine Edition, & in one instance a Verse is transposed which seems to me to improve the sense. At the end is written "Tees ieras kai Vasilikees Monees t*wn* Thessaloonike*wn*."

13883 A Charter of ...., to .... a Roll on Vellum, sec. .... 24½ inches long, & 7½ inches broad. The Painting in the beginning is obliterated, apparently on purpose.
This bears a suspicious look of forgery, but may possibly be genuine.

13884 Another similar Charter of .. to .... of the same suspicious Character, with a Painting, smeared, & obliterated like the other, but which has been gilded, & the writing, in both, has some appearance of having written been with gold Ink. On Vellum 23¼inch. by 7½ backed with cloth.

13885 A third Charter more suspicious than the others, & more obliterated. There has been a Painting, but it is rubbed out. On Vellum 28inch. long by 11½, backed with cloth.

(As this is a History by a Man who dared to speak the truth in those tyrannical times, and as the Copies of it are very rare, I will give the Index in extenso in this Catalogue. This Volume contains only the first 3 Books of the 6 which Las Casas wrote, or intended to write. He lived to a great age, & was witness to the cruel acts of the Spaniards, & Roman Catholic Priests against the Mexicans for 60 years, the History of which he purposed to write in 6 decades of years. This Volume therefore is the History of the first 30 years. It is written in 3 different hands, each Book having been given to a different scribe. It varies in some unimportant words from the Copy (which is also in my Library) made for my friend, the late lamented Lord Kingsborough, who, I feel it an honour to say, may be deemed to have undertaken his grand Work of Mexican Antiquities in this House of Middle Hill. (For, when he was here, he consulted me about the work, in which I strongly encouraged him, & I gave him his first letter of introduction to Dr. Bandinel of the Bodleian Library, in order to see the Mexican Manuscripts there.) But although the words are unimportant, they suffice to show that there are copies with variations. Where his Lordship obtained his Copy, I am not aware, nor am I likely to learn. For his correspondence seems to have perished in the course of that atrocious Action, which consigned him to a prison, & broke his heart,—the heart of one, who, if ever man merited an honorary Column, deserved to have the loftiest erected to his praise, instead of being subject to the persecutions which he suffered. But, happily, Men who perform great actions, cannot have their glory destroyed by the petty rancour, & malignity, of those living around them, & the name of Edward, Lord Kingsborough will be lauded by the world, when the names of his persecutors are utterly forgotten.)

14262 A Packet of Tracings from Mexican MSS. (now bound into a large folio Vol beginning with folio 482, ending folio 583. dated 1578.
This curious MS. appears to contain a list of Mexicans, whose heads are drawn in the Mexican manner, with their symbolical names proceeding from their mouths, and the Spanish interpretation of the names, attached to them. The work seems to be a Register of Mexicans living in the parishes of St. Juan de Vexozinco; St. Diego Chaltepetlapan; Sta. Maria Assumptio Almoyavacan; Fecacallanco; Nepopovalco; S. Fran. Tianquetenco; St. Estevan Tepetzicun, St. Antonio Tlatenco, & St. Luys Coyotzinco. At the commencement of each Parish is a Drawing of the Church, except the first, St. Juan Vexozinco, in the Title Page, which has only a Tree on a Hill: on the left side of the Tree is an Eagle, on the right an Ocelot. Above the Tree, & across part of it, is a statement, in Spanish writing of the time, describing the subject of the Chapter. The Original was imperfect in some parts, & probably all prior to folio 482 were lost. The following are specimens of the names.

A Head, with a deer's head issuing from the mouth, is Juan Mazatl, therefore Mazatl signifies a Deer.
A Head, with a Column on 3 Steps without a capital, is Juan Tamillo, therefore Tamillo signifies a Column on 3 Steps.
A Head, with a Diamond shaped object on the tip of the middle finger of an Open Hand held upright, is Francis Matlacmani.
A Head, with an Eagle's foot cut off, is Thomas Quauhtetepo, therefore Quauhtetepo is an Eagle's foot cut off.
A Head, with a Lizard on the top of it (not coming from the mouth) is Pedro Quatopi.
A Head, with a bird's skeleton head, & beak is Loys Vitziutl.
A Head, with a Rattle snake from the mouth, is Toribio Couatl: therefore Couatl is a Rattle-snake. (From this I infer that the real name of this Snake, is not Rattle, but Couatl Snake, and that those who first heard the natives pronounce the name, heard it indistinctly, and thought it had been Rattle.)
A Head, with a Bee, is Diego Xicon.
Some of the Names are formed from compound Images, as, a Bird's head above an open Jaw, shewing the teeth, is Quauhtlatova, & a Head with the same Bird's head (apparently a Parrot's) with a tongue, or word coming out of its mouth, is Quauhtlistas, therefore Quauhtl is probably a Parrot. A Head, with the head of an Ocelot, is Pedro Ocelotl, therefore Ocelotl is the Ocelot. A Head, with a Rattle Snake twisted in only one knot is Mixcouatl: therefore Mix probably signifies a Knot, or twist.
At fol. 429 is a List of Women, whose names are chiefly symbolised by plants, & flowers.
In some places there are sentences in the Mexican language written in Spanish letters.

15134 Drawings, & Designs of Giulio Romano, or Raphael. fol. ch. s. xvi. citron morocco richly gilt.
15135 Drawings of Taddeo, & Federico Zucchero, commencing with Drawings descriptive of Events in the Life of Taddeo Zucchero. "How he left his Parents, & offered himself to a Painter who rejected him. He then offered himself to a Colour-grinder, who received him, & set him to grind colours, & do all the menial offices in his House. He is sent on a message by his Mistress, sees a fine House beautifully painted on the out-side, which he admires, & tries to draw it. His master employing him in grinding all day, he has no opportunity of Drawing, except by Moonlight. Tired of grinding colours, he runs away to his Father. Afterwards he sets up as an Artist himself, and acquires reputation, & wealth." These Sketches of his Life by himself extend to near the middle of the Volume the remainder being Miscellaneous Designs by himself, & his Brother Federico. In the Paintings of his Life, he has written his own name "Taddeo Zucchero" on the hem of his garment in every scene. large thick 4*to. ch.* s. xvi. red mor. richly gilt.

20826 En cest livre sont les "Cronicques de la descollacion St. Jean Baptiste, des Empereurs, des Papes, des Rois Paiens, et des Rois Crestiens jusqua Roy Phillippe, fils le Roy Loys de France, 1274."
Ex Bibl. M. de Thou, 1 Cab. Tab 5. 4.
The following Memorandum is on the Cover
"Cet Cronique contient l'histoire depuis l'empereur Tibere jusqu'au regne de Philippe le Hardy outre l'histoire des Empereurs Romains, l'auteur s'etend beaucoup sur celle des Bretons, ou il mesle beaucoup de Fables. Au cinquieme siecle il commence celle des Roys de France qui fait ensuite la principal partie du livre. Il s'etend beaucoup sur les Croisades, dont il fait l'histoire fort en detail. Il y entremesle plusieurs genealogies des Maisons de Dieux, d'Anjou, de Naples. de Rumigni, de Mortagne, d'Anghien, d'Antoing, de Brabançon, et autres, qu'il commence au tems de la premiere Croisade, et les continue jusques a son tems, en marquant exactement les alliances. La connoissance que l'auteur semble avoir de l'origine, et de la foudation de plusieurs Eglises, et Abbayes de Hainaut, et de la France, et de plusieur familles de ces deux provinces, dont il rapport les genealogies, font soupçonner qu' il y demeuroit. Il s'etend particulairement sur les Croisades."
